Nissui CompactDry

CompactDry is ready to use dry media which prepares necessary ingredients for the target bacteria.

It increases the operation productivity and reduces the labor cost in our QC LAB.

In addition, CompactDry has validated by AOAC, MicroVal, and Nordval which is suitable for ISO standards.

The validation of the product is helpful for our worldwide export business.

MICROVAL® NEN

Applications

In order to secure the best quality of the product to our customers.

Our quality control laboratory uses Compact Dry for the routine microbial food safety tests.

It is convenient to store at room temperature and easy to do the serial dilution with plastic cover and 4 in 1 package.

The convenient features enable screening test with a large number of the sample every day.
